Pak SC strikes down deputy speaker's decision to reject no-trust motion against Imran Khan

ISLAMABAD, April 7 (PTI): Pakistan's Supreme Court on Thursday struck down National Assembly deputy Speaker Qasim Suri's controversial move to dismiss a no-confidence motion against Prime Minister Imran Khan, in a major blow to the cricketer-turned politician who is now likely to face a no-trust vote in Parliament after the ruling.

Suri, who is associated with Khan's Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf party, on April 3 dismissed the no-confidence motion against the premier claiming that it was linked with a 'foreign conspiracy' to topple the government and hence was not maintainable. Minutes later, President Ari Alvi dissolved the National Assembly on the advice of Prime Minister Khan who had effectively lost the majority.

Chief Justice Bandial, who is heading a five-member bench comprising Justices Ijazul Ahsan, Mohammad Ali Mazhar Miankhel, Munib Akhtar and Jamal Khan Mandokhel, declared as unconstitutional the controversial ruling by the deputy speaker regarding the rejection of the noconfidence motion in Parliament.

In a unanimous verdict, the five-member bench also declared dissolution of the parliament as unconstitutional.

The bench restored the parliament and declared the advice by Prime Minister Khan to President Alvi to dissolve the assembly as unconstitutional

The court ordered the Speaker to call the session of the assembly on April 9 at 10 am to organise the no-confidence vote. Security in and around the apex court was beefed up. Riot police forces were deployed outside the court building. During the hearing, Chief Justice Bandial noted deputy speaker's ruling is, prima facie, a violation of Article 95.

Various lawyers appeared in the court to plead in the complex case. Naeem Bokhari represented deputy speaker Suri, Imtiaz Siddiqui appeared for Prime Minister Khan, Ali Zafar represented President Alvi and attorney general Khaled Javed Khan represented the government.

Babar Awan appeared on behalf of the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf party, Raza Rabbani for Pakistan Peoples Party and Makhdoom Ali Khan for Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz.

Apart from leading lawyers representing various parties, the court also called at the rostrum Shehbaz Sharif, Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz president and main Opposition leader, and asked about his view on the way forward in the wake of uncertainty due to dissolution of assembly and announcement of fresh elections. Shehbaz said how the Opposition leaders can take part in the election after being labelled (CONTD. ON PAGE-2)

Suspected Maoist cadre held

GUWAHATI, April 7 (IANS): The Assam Police on Thursday arrested a person from the state's Kamrup district for allegedly having links with the Maoists, officials said. A police officer said that a Crime Branch team arrested Hriday Kalita from his native village of Chaygaon. He is being questioned by the senior police officers. The police, however, have refused to share further details regarding Kalita's arrest. The NIA had on Sunday conducted searches in 17 different locations in Assam's Cachar, Karimgani, Dibrugarh and Dhubri districts, and also arrested a woman Maoist cadre Reema Orang a.k.a. Ukraine pleads for weapons as fight looms on eastern front KYIV, April 7 (AP): Ukraine told residents of its industrial heartland to leave while they still can and urged Western nations to send 'weapons, weapons and weapons" on Thursday after Russian forces withdrew from the shattered outskirts of Kyiv to regroup for an offensive in the country's east. Russia's six-week-old invasion failed to take Ukraine's capital quickly and achieve what western countries say was President Vladimir Putin's initial aim of ousting the Ukrainian government. Russia's focus is now on the Donbas, a mostly Russian-speaking region in eastern Ukraine.

In Brussels, Ukrainian Foreign minister Dmytro Kuleba urged NATO to provide more weapons and help his war-torn country prevent further alleged atrocities. Ukrainian authorities are working to identify hundreds of bodies found in Kyiv's northern outskirts after Russian troops withdrew and to document evidence of possible war crimes. "My agenda is very simple. ... it's weapons, weapons and weapons," Kuleba said as he arrived at NATO headquarters for talks with the military organisation's foreign ministers. "The more weapons we (CONTD. ON PAGE-2)

The chief minister on the occasion also prayed for the welfare of all sections of the people of the state.

The chief minister further stressed on the need for individuals to strive towards development of their birth-place so that the state is able to witness all-round growth encompassing all sections of the society. Stressing on the importance of spiritual thoughts, he further added that Sanatan Dharma and culture teach one to embrace liberal views and ideas which help any individual to work to-

Emphasising that work culture is the "backbone of a community", the chief minister stated that a community not deeply rooted lacks longevity in the wake of the myriad of challenges that humanity is exposed to. DIPHU, April 7: The Joint Coordination Committee for Protection of Autonomy (JCCPA) condemned the statement of JI Kathar, the president of All Party Hills Leaders Conference (APHLC), showing his willingness to align with a political party.

JCCPA in a press release said that the president of APHL, JI Kathar, in a statement had said that the Autonomous Statement Demand Committee (ASDC) lost its entity as a political party as it has merged with an NGO, the Joint Coordination Committee for Protection of Autonomy (JCCPA); and hence the APHLC has no other regional-based political party to make an alliance with, but subsequently, he said that the APHLC is ready to make an alliance with the ASDC if it separates itself from

The JCCPA said, "The ASDC, in a press conference, has made it loud and clear that, unlike the APHLC, it is a registered political party and it has a long history of struggle for the democratic rights of the hill people of Karbi Anglong (East and West) and Dima Hasao. High immune response to Covid variants in breakthrough cases after 2 Covaxin jabs: ICMR study NEW DELHI, April 7 (PTI): In a recent ICMR study, breakthrough cases after full vaccination with Covaxin have shown a significant increase in the immune response against coronavirus variants of concern - Beta, Delta and Omicron.

Individuals who recovered from Covid also showed significant immunity boost post-vaccination with Covaxin but lower than the breakthrough cases. However, those who had taken two doses of Covaxin had very low neutralizing titres demonstrating the waning immunity after three months of the second dose of Covaxin, the study showed.

"The study highlights the significance of administering a booster dose or precaution dose of Covid vaccine as it provides better protection against the disease," Dr Pragya Yadav, a senior scientist at NIV Pune and the lead investigator of the study, told PTI. The findings of the study, conducted in February this year after isolating the Omicron variant, were published in the Journal of Infection on April 5.

"The impact of the third wave of the pandemic in India, caused by Omicron, triggered us to study the effectiveness of Covaxin against this variant. "We assessed the sera of naïve, recovered and breakthrough cases vaccinated with Covaxin for its neutralising ability against Omicron and other variants," she stated.

As part of the study, participants were categorised into three groups - 52 Covid-

19 naïve individuals vaccinated with two doses of Covaxin with an average age of 41.7 years, 31 Covid-19 recovered cases vaccinated with two doses of Covaxin with average age of 41.7 years and 40 breakthrough cases after two-dose vaccination with Covaxin with an average age of 43.7

The sera samples of naïve, recovered and breakthrough cases were collected on average 97, 99 and 110 days, respectively. The breakthrough infection was found to occur on average 43 days after the second vaccination. A majority of the breakthrough cases had mild disease (95%) and two were asymptomatic, while 32.5% had co-morbidities like diabetes, hypothyroidism, hypertension, cardiac arrhythmias and allergic asthma. "Breakthrough cases had the highest neutralising activity against all variants demonstrating a significant increase in the immune response post-infection. Recovered cases also (CONTD. ON PAGE-2)

Righteous GST implementation to bolster online skill gaming sector in India

NEW DELHI, April 7 (IANS): With the GST Council expected to meet soon, there has been a lot of conversation around GST restructuring, rate rationalisations, for and against views around minimum thresholds and more. Online skill gaming sector, one of the recognised sunrise sectors which has of late seen a lot of positive feedback from the Centre, has also been waiting to hear on GST for many distinct reasons.

The online skill gaming industry has been on an upward trajectory for the last 4-5 years and the pandemic put this industry growing at the rate of 38 per cent CAGR into the spotlight. As per a recent BCG report, this sunrise sector in India has gained significant momentum with excellent Internet service providers, penetration of the use of mobiles across social and demographic barriers and India's enthusiasm to adopt and adapt to the online gaming platforms. India's share is currently at 1-2 per cent of the global gaming market with a market size of USD 1.8 billion of which Real-Money gaming has the largest constituent of revenue pool driven by higher user paying propensity (around 20 per cent of total market size). The total number of users of gaming services are close to 433 million and is expected to touch 650 million by 2025. However, apart from fine-tuning the regulatory mechanism, there's an urgent need to look at the GST levied on the sector.

Last year on May 24 a Group of Ministers (GoM) formed by the GST council to examine the taxation regime applicable to online gaming was seen as a progressive move, the industry hopes to see a stable and clear taxation regime. However, the committee was dissolved and a new one was formed earlier in February 2022. Currently, services provided by online skill gaming platforms are classified under service accounting code 998439 of the GST services classification and through this attracts a rate of 18 per cent on the Gross Gaming Revenue (GGR) for the service provider whereas, the games of chance (including gambling, casinos and more) are subjected to 28 per cent GST.

The industry operators believe that the legislative view as proven by the jurisprudence in the country multiple times, clearly differentiates games of skill from games of chance and so the taxation levied should continue to take into account this differentiation. Furthermore, international practices related to taxes on gaming have proven that tax-rate shouldn't exceed 20 per cent get and the sooner they arrive in Ukraine, the more human lives will be saved," he said. While NATO is striving to avoid actions that might draw any of its 30 members into a war with Russia, secretary-general Jens Stoltenberg urged nations that belong to the western alliance to send Ukraine more weapons, and not just defensive arms. Western countries have provided Ukraine with portable anti-tank and anti-aircraft weapons, but they have been reluctant to supply aircraft, tanks or any equipment that Ukrainian troops would have to be trained to use. Moscow announced more than a week ago that it planned to concentrate its forces in the east, and they have largely withdrawn from Kyiv and the north. Growing numbers of Putin's troops, along with mercenaries, have been reported moving into the Donbas, where Russia-backed separatists have fought Ukrainian forces for eight years and control some territory. Ukrainian Deputy Prime Minister Iryna Vereshchuk urged civilians to evacuate to safer regions before it was too late. She said Ukrainian and Russian officials agreed to establish 10 civilian evacuation routes on Thursday. The change of Russia's focus brought relief to Chernihiv, a city near Ukraine's northern border with Belarus that was encircled and cut off for weeks.

VOL. XXIII, ISSUE 86, DIPHU, FRIDAY, APRIL 8, 2022

QUOTE OF THE DAY

Let us put our minds together and see what life we can make for our children. - Sitting Bull ven as the new Covid-19 infections are declining and countries across the world are withdrawing the curbs they had imposed, including the mandatory requirement of wearing masks and physical distancing, the latest IMF working paper says that the pandemic is not over, and the health and economic losses continue to grow. It is now evident that Covid-19 will be with us for the long term and there are very different scenarios for how it could evolve from a mild endemic scenario to a dangerous variant scenario, the study titled - "A Global Strategy to Manage the Long - Term Risks of Covid-19" has emphasised. This realisation calls for a new strategy that manages both the uncertainty and the long-term risks of Covid-19. There are four key policy implications of such a strategy the authors of the paper have said.

First, we need to achieve equitable access beyond vaccines to encompass a comprehensive toolkit. Second, we must monitor the evolving virus and dynamically upgrade that toolkit. Third, we must transition from the acute response to a sustainable strategy toward Covid-19, balanced and integrated with other health and social priorities. And fourth, we need a unified risk-mitigation approach to future infectious disease threats beyond Covid-19. Infectious diseases with pandemic potential are a threat to global economic and health security; the authors have reminded the world while suggesting that the international community should recognise that its pandemic financing addresses a systemic risk to the global economy, not just the development need for a particular country. Additionally, the paper says, the international community should allocate additional funding to fight pandemics and strengthen health systems both domestically and overseas, which will require about USD 15 billion in grants this year and USD 10 billion

More than 6 million people have died according to official estimates. However, other studies have estimated the actual death toll ranging from 16 to 20 million, which is approximately equal to that of World War I. IMF's World Economic Outlook 2022 has projected the cumulative output loss from the pandemic through 2024 to be about USD 13.8 trillion. On tests, the daily target was set at 1 per 1000 people, and about two in three developing economies continue to test below this target despite the Omicron wave. Meanwhile, high-income countries are testing 80 times more than low-income countries. The study foresees at least four possible scenarios in the post-Omicron world, which are based on the conceptualised scenarios of earlier studies published in 2022 by Jeremy Farrar and the WHO. These are "Mild" Endemic, "Injurious" Endemic, "Disruptive" Endemic, and "Dangerous Variant" Scenario. The refreshed ACT Accelerator budget of USD 23.4 billion is a good starting point, the study says, which can be updated as required. However, it mentioned the lack of financing for a balanced and integrated global response. So far only about USD 18.7 billion in grant form for the ACT Accelerator has been raised. The IMF Pandemic Proposal had identified a grant need of USD 35 billion, so a gap of about USD 15 billion remains. Moreover, many hidden scars need to be addressed, because the pandemic has exacerbated inequality, poverty, unemployment, learning poverty, and so on. The world needs a unified approach to the solution to the problem.

akistan's cricket star-turned-politician Imran Khan did not hesitate to admit that the "establishment" (the Pakistan military) gave him three options. The first option was to face a no-confidence vote in parliament. The second one was to dissolve parliament and hold snap elections and the third one was to resign as prime minister and forget about patronage of the military. Khan's party Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) swept into power in 2018, albeit with the blessings of the military, pulling strings to ensure that PTI has 121 seats in the assembly, thus making it a migovernment. The military denied the claims of giving Khan three op tions and backing him in the election, but he successfully dodged the ouster by following one of the three pieces of advice after consulting his cronies and advisers. Pakistan's former celebrity cricketer Wasim Akram wrote on Twitter: "The Game Changer #ImranKhan #Skipper #NotOutYet #Surprise". The tweet of the former captain and international sports commentator has earned 72.3K likes and 10.2K Retweets in a day.

What Akram and other supporters of Khan have not mentioned is that Khan remained loyal to "His Master's Voice" – the military bigwigs who continued to interfere in foreign policy, civil administration and political affairs. For nearly half of the 75 years of Pakistan's birth, the country was ruled by the military which caused immense harm to the national economy, and sustainable development goals, blocking the capacity building of democratic institutions and freedom of expression.

As a result, the news organisations that were critical of the PTI government fell prey to Inter-Services Intelligence, the military's spy agency. The dreaded agency has long been accused of enforced disappearances, extrajudicial killings and torture of journalists in custody, especially in restive Balochistan and Waziristan of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa.

Several prominent journalists were killed. Journalists critical of the military establishment were forced to go into exile. The owners of several private news organisations were stopped by the ISI from employing these journalists. The opposition moved to oust Khan accusing him of failing to revive the economy and crackdown on corruption. Now he is blamed for "burning down democratic order" as the minority government dissolved parliament to avoid the vote of no-confidence that he claims is backed by the United States because he visited Moscow on the day Russia launched the invasion of Ukraine. After the chaos in parliament before its dissolution, Pakistan's independent newspaper Dawn in an editorial wrote: "The nation is stunned. Ahead of the vote of no-confidence, the prime minister had repeatedly hinted that he had a 'trump card' up his sleeve. There were indications all along that something might be amiss: even as political pundits and the media confidently predicted Imran Khan's defeat in the vote of no-confidence, he seemed unperturbed. No one could have guessed that his last ploy would involve having the democratic order burnt down by a democratically empowered party." Maleeha Lodhi, a Pakistani diplomat and political scientist wrote in the Dawn: "The Imran Khan government's denouement raises the question of how he ended up facing a vote of noconfidence. Although that parliamentary process was subverted and a constitutional crisis ensued it will still mark an end to his rule. Few governments in Pakistan's recent history began their term with Khan's advantages. He had unqualified support from the military, widespread public goodwill, control of Punjab, a divided and demoralised opposition and a popular yearning for change." The country's political landscape has recently been abuzz with political activity as parties and individuals changed alliances and the PTI and the opposition were seen trading barbs and allegations alongside intensifying efforts to ensure their success in the noconfidence contest. Zaigham Khan, a leading political analyst told Al Jazeera: "[The dissolution is] a blatant violation of the constitution and can lead to a very serious crisis." If the apex court of Pakistan orders the speaker to go ahead with the no-confidence motion, the dissolution of parliament will become invalid, the analyst said. Former Prime Minister Muhammad Khan Juneio appealed to the Supreme Court in 1988 after the assembly had been dissolved by former president General Zia-ul-Haq, who had taken power in a military coup years earlier. The court agreed his government had been dissolved unconstitutionally but ruled that since elections had been announced anyway it was best to move on. The fate of Khan's political future now rests upon the Supreme Court's decision. Although opposition leaders seemed confident to win a vote of no-confidence against Khan, chances are weak to get a proactive verdict. It's highly unlikely the Supreme Court will overrule the decision to hold the vote at all. Public mental health in India: A case of misplaced priorities

n 2017, President Ram Nath Kovind stated that India was facing a "possible mental health epidemic" and asserted the need to provide accessible mental health services by 2022. Almost prophetically in India's Union Budget for financial year [FY] 2022-23, mental health found a rare mention, even if it took us a pandemic to realize its significance. Many experts and stakeholders lauded the move, deeming it "gratifying", "timely" and "much-needed". But are the celebrations premature?

The Budget promises Rs 86,200.45 crores to the health sector for FY 2022-23, which amounts to 2 per cent of the total fiscal outlay. A total of Rs 670 crores is allocated to mental health, which is a 12.5 per cent increase from the previous financial year, although it amounts to only a 0.77 per cent of the total health budget. It is worth noting that 94 per cent of these funds are earmarked for two centrally funded institutes: National Institute of Mental Health and Neuro-Sciences [NIMHANS], Bengaluru (Rs 560 crores) and Lokpriya Gopinath Bordoloi Regional Institute of Mental Health, Tezpur (Rs 70

Furthermore, Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman explained that "the pandemic accentuated mental health problems in people of all ages" and announced the launch of a National Tele Mental Health programme "to better the access to quality mental health counselling and care services". The creation of a digital ecosystem for healthcare is fast gaining momentum in India's public health policies and programmes. The proposed telemental health programme is in tune with India's Ayushman Bharat Digital Mission [ABDM] launched in September 2021, aiming to provide accessible digital health services to Indians.

With the help of technical support from the Indian Institute of Information Technology-Bengaluru, 23 centres of excellence [CoEs] will be set up, with NIMHANS serving as the nodal centre. However, budget estimates for this new programme have not been disclosed.

The flagship initiative under the proposed programme is the nationwide Tele Mental Health Assistance and Nationally Actionable Plan through States (T-MANAS). A statement issued by NIMHANS detailed the vision of the initiative to ensure a comprehensive continuum of care for people in mental distress by providing immediate intervention and linking to in-person mental gion, including training of counsellors, monitoring and conducting operational research. In a diverse country like India, offering contextualized mental healthcare in local languages is a step in the right direction. It must be noted that telemental health is a broad term referring to remote delivery of mental health services, including diagnosis, assessment, symptom tracking and treatment, by means of telephone, video calls or mobile-based applications. Its potential advantages include improved access to care for existing users of mental health services in underserved regions, reduced clinic-related infrastructure costs, and lower perceived stigma attached with visiting a mental health provider. This modality is of value in India, where the treatment gap for various mental disorders ranges from 28 to 83 per cent. The acceptability of such services is also evident in the surge in users resorting to telemental health, especially during the COVID-induced national lockdown. However, a detailed programme implementation plan has not been released yet. Will the helpline offer therapeutic services like counselling and psychotherapy? What are the guidelines to be operationalized for referral-related decision support systems? How will it ensure compliance in cases which require referral to healthcare facilities? Answers to these questions are crucial in determining effective implementation of the programme.

An abysmal dearth of mental health professionals poses a formidable challenge to the programme. According to the National Mental Health Survey (2016), the number of available psychiatrists in India ranged from 0.05 to 1.2 per lakh population. There is a paucity of clinical psychologists and psychiatric social workers in absolute numbers. and a considerable variation in geographic distribution with a majority of mental health professionals concentrated in cities. In such a scenario, it is imperative to question – who will provide the tele-services? An already overburdened mental health workforce can areas. Whether their responsibility will be restricted to creating awareness about the helpline or providing telecounselling is anyone's guess.

However, involving female frontline workers is an effort doomed to fail. Even before the pandemic, there is evidence to sug gest they were overworked and underpaid. in addition to facing challenges like juggling domestic work and poor functionality of healthcare facilities.

A review of telemental health services based largely in the developed world asserts that outcomes of such services are comparable to in-person care, effective for a range of service-users and mental conditions. When it comes to resource-limited settings like India, however, we may not be able to generalize these findings. While a review of such services in low- and middle-income countries suggests positive outcomes for disorders like Alzheimer's, dementia and depression, the evaluation uses standardized tests developed in the West with limited usage in the Indian context.

India hosts an array of mental health helplines run by state governments, civil society and non-profit organizations. There is a need for robust evaluation of such helplines before rolling out the new programme to ensure provision of evidencebased telemental healthcare.

The success of a telehealth programme is contingent upon a minimum requirement of access to mobile phones. According to data from the National Family Health Survey-5, Indian women's ownership of a personal mobile phone averages at 54 per cent. However, there is a considerable rural-urban divide with only 46.6 per cent of rural women having a mobile phone that they themselves

It is safe to say that women from lowerincome households are worse-off. To make matters worse, pervasive gender norms also act as barriers to women's engagement with mobile phones. A 2018 study suggests mobile phones are seen as a potential risk to girls' reputation before marriage and as a deterrent to fulfilment of domestic caregiving 'duties' after marriage. This renders women's mobile phone usage vulnerable to constant surveillance by male relatives.

of data privacy of the telemental health servconditions and associated treatment seeking as a major barrier to utilization of mental health services, and justifies all fears relating to breach of privacy. As seen in the case of antiretroviral treatment for HIV [human immunodeficiency virus], mandating personal identifiers like Aaadhar for telemental health and service utilization.

Transgender persons, on the other hand, face a double whammy of the lack of valid documents needed to access public services as well as the absence of an effective legal framework to protect them from discrimination in case of any lapse in confidentiality. It is imperative to iron out the details of mental health data privacy in order to ensure their safe access to such tele-services.

India launched the National Mental Health Program [NMHP] in 1982 with an overarching goal of providing mental health care by utilizing the existing public health infrastructure. In order to scale this up, India inaugurated the District Mental Health Programme [DMHP] in 1996, decentralizing programme administration and implementation to the district-level. The main components of the programme include district-level activities like community engagement and outreach, and tertiary-care activities (Scheme A and B) like developing centres of excellence and institutional training of postgraduate students.

A paltry Rs 40 crores (or six per cent) of the total mental health budget are allocated to the NMHP, which only includes the tertiary-level Schemes A and B. This amount has remained unchanged from budget estimates from 2019. Furthermore, funds for the DMHP, the main service delivery component of the NMHP, are allocated through the flexible pool of non-communicable disease. In the absence of a clearly defined line-item for DMHP in the budget documents, the exact budget estimates cannot be ascer-

Mental health does not operate in a social vacuum. Addressing social determinants of mental health like poverty, education and living conditions in our programs are just as essential as strengthening mental healthcare service delivery. The National Mental Health Policy (2014) enshrines principles of community mental health including mental health promotion, community engagement and intersectoral collaborations.

The utility of community-based interventions through NGO-led projects like Atmiyata and Vishram, in improving mental health literacy, facilitating access to social welfare benefits, and reducing emotional distress and anxiety is well documented. However, the Union Budget offers little hope in giving fillip to such community-based interven-

While technology undoubtedly offers a huge window of opportunity in improving public mental health, it must be accompanied by concurrent developments in the existing mental health infrastructure. Focusing on training primary care physicians in basic mental healthcare and creating a cadre of community mental health workers alone can ensure effective integration of mental health services in primary care. Efforts should be also be directed to creating awareness about recognition of signs of distress, suicide prevention and availability of mental health services in order to ensure uptake of the

In the context of the telemental health, it is crucial to build a diverse referral network, provide continued support, training the counsellors in comprehensive care, and being transparent about data collection and usage, in order to gain public confidence in the programme. The government should actively engage with other stakeholders working in this space and establish robust monitoring and evaluation mechanisms for future course corrections and improvements.

Any laxity in these efforts will possibly relegate the upcoming programme to just another helpline, in an ocean of many. (IPA hav

Football World Cup

Qatar puts its best foot forward

By: James M Dorsey

This is Qatar's year to put its best foot forward. A major producer of natural gas, the tiny Gulf state is under the magnifying glass as it enters the final phase of hosting the 2022 World Cup later this year and emerges as a potential part of efforts to reduce European dependence on Russian energy.

On balance, Qatar looks like it has already succeeded, as much on its own steam as with the help of its erstwhile detractors in the Gulf and elsewhere in the Arab world, including the United Arab Emirates and

Over the past decade, much of the attention has focused on labour rights in the Gulf state as a result of world governing soccer body FIFA's awarding of the 2022 World Cup hosting rights to Qatar in 2010. Oatar remains a target of criticism by human rights groups, despite implementing far-reaching reforms of its kafala or labour sponsorship system that long put workers at the mercy of their employers. The criticism is rooted in the Gulf state's weak implementation of the reforms; a problematic judicial system; a top-down, centralised decision-making process; and poor handling of World Cup and sportsrelated incidents.

In the latest incident, The Guardian newspaper, a pillar of critical coverage of the Qatari World Cup, reported that migrant workers, a majority of the population, had collectively paid billions of dollars in illegal recruitment fees over the last decade. Qatar outlawed burdening migrant workers with recruitment fees as part of its reforms. Oatar opened recruitment centres in eight labour-supplying countries to ensure that recruitment would meet ethical standards in line with recommendations made by a Qatar Foundation study. The centres have reduced the risk of employment terms in workers' contracts being unilaterally changed but have been unable to curb the levelling of recruitment fees.

To compensate for their inability, the Supreme Committee for Delivery & Legacy, the Qatari organizer of the World Cup, has obliged companies it contracts to repay the fees without workers having to provide proof of payment. Companies have so far pledged to repay roughly USD$28.5 million to some 49,000 workers, $22 million of which have already been paid out.

It is a step the government could apply nationally with relative ease in an effort to demonstrate sincerity and, more fundamentally, counter the criticism. Similarly, in response to complaints raised by human rights groups and others, the government could also offer to compensate families of workers who die on construction sites. None of these measures would put a dent in Qatari budgets but would earn the Gulf state immeasurable goodwill.

"The migrant workers injured or families of those who died in the build-up to the World Cup should be cared for," said Lise Klaveness, the newly-elected president of the Norwegian Football Federation, at this week's FIFA Congress in Doha. Klaveness' stirring speech drew a fiery response from Supreme Committee secretary-general Hassan Al-

Thawadi. "We're not seeking validation. Legacy is being delivered as we speak. We've showcased to the world what tournament hosting can do," Al-Thawadi said.

Nevertheless, Qatar hasn't done itself any favours with its handling of the case of Abdullah Ibhais, a Jordanian-Palestinian Supreme Committee communications executive, who opposed putting a spin on a strike by migrant workers, including some assigned to World Cup-related projects. The workers were on strike because their salaries had not been paid. Ibhais was subsequently accused of leaking state secrets and awarding a social media tender to a Turkish bidder in return for Turkish citizenship. He asserts that he was forced to sign a confession and was initially refused access to a lawyer.

Ibhais was sentenced to five years in prison based on evidence that, according to Human Rights Watch, was "vague, circumstantial, and in some cases contradictory." However, an appeals court subsequently reduced his sentence to three years in jail.

In a statement, the Supreme Committee insisted that the allegations against Ibhais had "merit. The committee contended that the assertion that the charges constitute retribution for "raising matters pertaining to workers' welfare is absolutely

In contrast to recurring rights issues that cast a shadow over the Qatari World Cup, Qatar garnered substantial goodwill during the 3.5year-long United Arab Emirates-Saudi-led diplomatic and economic boycott designed to force the Gulf state to subjugate itself to the will of its detractors.

Perceived as the underdog confronted with demands that would have de facto deprived it of its independence, Qatar was lauded for its resilience and steadfastness that ultimately persuaded the UAE and Saudi Arabia to end the boycott in January 2021.

Since then, Qatar was awarded for its key role in assisting the United States in its bungled withdrawal from Afghanistan with the US nominating it as a 'Major Non-NATO Ally.'

Qatar is the only Gulf state to enjoy that status. It ranks Qatar among the United States' closest allies alongside Australia and Japan and opens the door to more joint military exercises and potential

The nomination takes on added significance at a time that Gulf States worry about United States efforts to rejigger and reduce its secustrike a deal with Iran on reviving the 2015 nuclear agreement that curbed the Islamic republic's nuclear program. The deal would lift many US

rity commitments in the region and sanctions against Iran and return it to the international fold without addressing Iran's ballistic missiles program and support for militias in Lebanon, Iraq, and Yemen – issues that are major concerns for Saudi Arabia, the UAE, and Israel. Nevertheless, human rights groups will view the final stretch to the World Cup scheduled for the end of the year as an opportunity to increase pressure on the Gulf state to address their remaining concerns.

The final stretch is not only an opportunity for activists. It also is an opportunity for Qatar to put its best foot forward on labour issues that it already acknowledges and has made significant strides in addressing. (IPA Service)

UK to build 8 nuclear reactors amid new energy strategy

LONDON, April 7 (AP): Britain plans to build eight new nuclear reactors and expand production of wind energy as it seeks to reduce dependence on oil and natural gas from Russia and other foreign suppliers following the invasion of Ukraine

China successfully launches new satellite for Earth observation

BEIJING, April 7 (PTI): China on Thursday successfully launched a new Earth observation satellite which will become part of its landsea radar satellite constellation and capture fine-resolution images to help Beijing safeguard its maritime rights and interests.

The satellite Gaofen-3 03 was launched from Jiuquan Satellite Launch Centre by a Long March-4C rocket and has entered the planned orbit successfully.

The satellite will be networked with the orbiting Gaofen-3 and Gaofen-3 02 satellites to form a land-sea radar satellite constellation and capture reliable, stable synthetic aperture radar (SAR) images.

Earth Observation (EO) satellites produce a large number of SAR images every day. SAR images have attracted much attention due to their all-weather operation, high spatial resolution, and recent improvements in pro-

Prince Mohammed bin Salman, was killed on Oct. 2, 2018, at the Saudi Consulate in Istanbul. He had gone into the consulate for an appointment to collect documents required for him to marry his Turkish fiancée, Hatice Cengiz. He never emerged from the building. Turkish officials alleged that Khashoggi was killed and then dismembered with a bone saw inside the consulate by a team of Saudi agents sent to Istanbul. The group included a forensic doctor, intelligence and security officers and individuals who worked for the crown prince's office. His remains have not been found.

The Istanbul court's decision comes despite warnings from human rights groups that turning the case over to the kingdom would lead to a cover up of the killing, which has cast suspicion on the crown prince.

It also comes as Turkey, which is in a deep economic downturn, has been trying to repair its troubled relationship with Saudi Arabia and media reports have claimed that Riyadh has made improved relations conditional on Turkey dropping the case, which had inflamed tensions between two countries.

The move would pave the way to a resolution of disputes between the two regional heavyweights since the 2011 Arab Spring, including Turkey's support for Islamist movements like the Muslim Brotherhood, which Riyadh considers a terrorist group. China protests to US over Pelosi's planned Yemen's president steps aside amid efforts to end war visit to Taiwan, warns strong measures

BEIJING, April 7 (PTI): China on Thursday lodged a diplomatic protest with the US and delivered a stern warning that it will take 'strong measures" if US House of Representatives Speaker Nancy Pelosi visited Taiwan, saying such a visit would severely impact Beijing-Washington ties.

Pakistan's passport again 4th worst in world

LAHORE, April 7 (IANS): Pakistan's passport has been again ranked the fourth worst in the world by the Henley Passport Index, which grades travel documents from different countries on the basis of international mobility enjoyed by their holders, Express Tribune reported.

According to the index, Pakistan is placed on the 109th position on the list, with visa-free access to only 31 destinations across the world. Only three other countries' passports rank lower than Pakistan's in the world which includes Syria, Iraq and Afghanistan.

Meanwhile, there was little change in the top 10 most powerful passports compared to the last ranking. Japan and Singapore continue to share the number one spot in the ranking, with passport holders from both countries able to access 192 destinations around the world visa-free, the report said.

The ranking also reveals that Ukraine has a visa-free/visa-on-arrival score of 143, a 'record high' for the country, and now ranks in 34th place, climbing up one spot since January. Russia trails behind in 49th place, with a score of 117. falling from 46th place, which it held earlier this year.

Meanwhile, the UK passport has climbed the ranks from 6th place to 5th with a visa-free score of 187, while the US passport is one step behind in 6th place with a score of 186. Afghanistan remains at the bottom of the ranking with its nationals only able to access 26 destinations visa-free.

Plans called for four-day closures of districts while residents were tested. That changed to an indefinite citywide shutdown after case numbers soared. Shoppers who got little warning stripped supermarket shelves.

City officials apologized publicly last week and promised to improve food supplies.

Officials say Shanghai, home of the world's busiest port and China's main stock exchange, has enough food. But a deputy mayor, Chen Tong, acknowledged Thursday getting it the "last 100 meters" to households is a challenge.

"Shanghai's battle against the epidemic has reached the most critical moment," Chen said at a news conference, according to state media. He said officials "must go all out to get living

At the same event, a vice president of Meituan, China's biggest food delivery platform, blamed a shortage of staff and vehicles, according to a transcript released by the company. The executive, Mao Fang, said Meituan has moved automated delivery vehicles and Another online grocer, Dingdong Maicai, said it shifted 500 employees in Shanghai from other posts to making deliveries.

nearly 1,000 extra employees to Shanghai.

Li Xiaoliang, an employee of a courier company, complained the government overlooks people living in hotels. He said he is sharing a room with two coworkers after positive cases were found near his rented house.

Li, 30, said they brought instant noodles but those ran out. Now, they eat one meal a day of 40 yuan ($6) lunch boxes ordered at the front desk, but the vendor sometimes doesn't deliver. On Thursday, Li said he had only water all day.

The local government office "clearly said that they didn't care about those staying in the hotel and left us to find our own way," Li said. "What we need most now is supplies, food."

After residents of a Shanghai apartment complex stood on their balconies to sing this week in a possible protest, a drone flew overhead and broadcast the message: "Control the soul's desire for freedom and do not open the window to sing. This behaviour has the risk of spreading the epidemic.

'ALL THE OLD KNIVES' Masterfully plotted, complex, and immersive slow burn

rom its tense opening to its edgy end, 'All The Old Knives' is a film that captivates the viewer. Masterfully plotted, director Janus Metz Pedersen manages to create a patient thriller from Olen Steinhauer's screenplay, which is adapted from the novel of the same name, authored by Steinhauer.

The film stars Chris Pine as Henry Pelham and Thandiwe Newton as Celia Harrison, both CIA officers and star-crossed lovers whose relationship was shattered by a terrorist hijacking that occurred eight years

Henry travels from Vienna to Carmel-by-the-Sea, California, to meet Celia, where she now resides with a husband and two children. The two of them meet over dinner as Henry, who is still stationed at the CIA office in Vienna, learnt from Ilyas Shishani (Orli Shuka), one of his contacts, who confessed before his death that the hijackers of the illfated Flight Turkish Airline 127 were successful because of a mole in the CIA. Still reeling under this high-profile incident, Pelham's boss Vick Wallinger (Laurence Fishburne), keen on discovering who the mole was, assigns Pelham to check on retired Bill Compton (Jonathan lives in London, and Celia Harrison, who after the Austrian debacle, decided she's had enough and left the agency to settle down to live an ordinary life in California. Narrated in a non-linear manner, the plot unravels at a slow pace, in an unusual fashion, around the dining table where Henry is eager to clear her name but perhaps more intensely interested in discovering why she had left him behind in Austria. The film expertly manipulates the mood and atmosphere by juxtapositioning scenes from the past with those in the present.

Pine and Newton are compelling actors and share great onscreen chemistry, albeit one potentially born out of lust, but it is strong enough for the viewers to wonder alongside Henry why exactly did she run and run so far away. Since the narra-

the rest of the supporting cast hardly has any scope to dis-play their performances.

On the visual front, DOP Charlotte Bruus Christensen's frames are impressive. She combines her skill sets and palettes intriguingly and solidifies two distinct vibes across the film's timelines. The visuals and the soundtrack are meshed effortlessly by Mark Eckersley's astute editing. Overall, the film is a fascinating slow-burn, complex and immersive. IANS

Archana Puran Singh then asked her the reason for the weight gain to MUMBAI, April 7 (IANS): Actor Sikandar Kher, who has been shooting for multiple projects, completed the shoot of three extremely lengthy projects within a span of 60 days.

The projects in the said mix are the crime thriller web-show, 'Chidiya Udd', the Siddharth-Garima director duo's feature film based on surrogacy, called 'Dukaan' and an untitled web-show based out of Kolkata with an OTT giant.

Commenting on the occasion, the actor says, "Working back to back on multiple projects is quite draining, but if you ask me, it is equally exciting as well. If you're in love with the craft, then you'll most definitely have a blast while shooting for multiple projects, which is what happened with me." "All these three projects are extremely special as all of them involve me playing extremely different and interesting kinds of roles. I look forward to getting even busier in the future and probably achieving new records with respect to project completions in given timelines", he added.

Sikandar was last seen in Sushmita Sen starrer 'Aarya 2' which followed the journey of a widow avenging her husband's death by a gang.

LOS ANGELES, April 7 (IANS): Deacon Frey, the son of Glenn Frey, the frontman for the rock band 'Eagles' and its founding member, has left the rock band after working with them for five years. Deacon stepped into the shoes of his father and sang for the band after the latter's demise in 2016 following complications of rheumatoid arthritis, reports 'Variety'. As per 'Variety', a band spokesperson says he will not be replaced on the upcoming dates on the Eagles' ongoing 'Hotel California' tour, which resumes after a lull on April 19 and continues through the end of June. The representative said, "Deacon's bandmates will take over his tour duties in his absence.

In a statement attributed to the entire group on its website, the band said, "Deacon Frey has devoted the past four and a half years to carrying on his father's legacy and, after some weeks of reflection, he statement further read, "In the wake now feels that it is of his dad's demise, Deacon, at age time for him to 24, did an extraordinary thing by forge his own stepping from relative anonymity path. We undernto the very public world of his father's long illustrious career. We are stand, comgrateful to Deacon for his adpletely, and we support him in mirable efforts and we wish him well as he charts his future.' whatever he Wishing Deacon the very best wishes to for the journey that lies ahead pursue in

is always welcome to join us onstage at any future concerts, if he so desires. We hope our fans will join us in wishing Deacon the very best as he moves into the next phase of his career."

Deacon had already been absent from the group's shows earlier this year, which should offer a model for how future concerts will proceed. Currently, the Eagles have listed tour dates only running through June 26 in London's Hyde Park, with none yet announced for after Gill's solo tour in July and August.

The 'Hotel California' tour, after resuming April 19 in * Columbus, Ohio, will move through some Southern states - including two nights at Nashville's Bridgestone Arena April 28-29 - before wrapping up its U.S. run May 28 at Las Vegas' MGM Grand Garden Arena, where it started prior to the pandemic. Five U.K. dates follow in the second half of June.

ret in the fictional state of Harit Pradesh, the arrogant and pompous Chief Minister Ganga Ram Chaudhary (Abhishek Bachchan) is arrested for a scam. But before getting locked up in judicial custody, he relinquishes his position in favour of his wife, Bimla Devi (Nimrit Kaur), and remote controls the state from behind the

In prison, he is pampered by his sycophants till the arrival of super inspector, Jyoti Deswal (Yami Gautam), who insists that one should be assigned work according to one's level of educa-

Since Ganga Ram Chaudhary is only eighth-passed, he is eligible to work as a gardener, carpenter, or any other menial work. But being the CM and a man of clout, his pride is injured.

He tries seeking his wife's help to get Inspector Jyoti transferred, but she blatantly refuses, citing a perception issue.

When he learns that prisoners who study are exempted from working in prisons, he contemplates appearing for the Secondary School Certificate exam, which is the tenth standard or "Dasvi" in Hindi.

But when he realises that education empowers you, he takes up the challenge, and how with the help of other inmates, he works towards studying for the exam forms the crux of the narrative. Being a satire, the writers have crafted a vitreous cocktail of naked ambition and blustery bravado with a distinctly bitter aftertaste. On the face of it, you chuckle constantly, but subconsciously you realise the sad state of affairs that prevails. While the writing is good in parts, it is also the weakest element of the film as the narrative lacks chutzpah.

On the performance front, the film is an outright Abhishek Bachchan canvas. He plays the big-headed, self-important politician who mellows with time to perfection. He is aptly supported by Nimrit Kaur as his timid wife, who suddenly tastes power, and faster than a chameleon changes its colour, she transforms herself into a bumbling shrewd character who lacks any real conviction other than a desire for power and position. Coming to Yami Gautam as the super-strict police inspector, despite delivering a competent performance, she does not have the persona to play such a character she seems to be a misfit in the film, and the makers of the film are solely to be blamed for it.

The rest of the supporting cast are flat stock characters who have their moments of limited on-screen glory. The music and songs in the film appear of mediocre quality with oft-heard tunes.

Overall, the film is fairly entertaining and engaging.

REAL MADRID STUN CHELSEA WITH 3-1 WIN

LONDON, April 7 (IANS): Real Madrid have one foot in the door of the UEFA Champions League semifinal after Karim Benzema, with a stunning hat-trick, bullied Chelsea 3-1 here on Thursday.

Benzema opened the scoring in the 21st minute as he got a great cross from Vinicius and headed it into the back of the net to give the visitors a 1-0 lead at Stamford

Three minutes later he did it again as this time it was Luka Modric with a super service to Benzema who again managed to head the ball into the net to double Real Madrid's

In the 30th minute it was Militao again off a Toni Kroos corner but this time his header went right into the hands of Mendy. Chelsea reduced Madrid's lead to one as Kai Havertz in the 40th minute was able to head one in past Courtois.

Kai Havertz dragged Chelsea back into the contest from nowhere before half-time, but the luckless Edouard Mendy gifted Benzema his hat-trick goal with an undersold pass.

A minute into the second-half Real Madrid regained its two-goal lead as Benzema was able to intercept a weak pass from Mendy the keeper who was out of his net and managed to shoot the ball into the

The prolific striker moved his competition goal return to 13 in just seven matches. Benzema took his season's tally to 37 goals in 36 matches for Real, handing his side a major chance of making the semifinals in their bid to land a 14th Champions League

The final whistle blew after five minutes of added time and Real Madrid had pulled off an impressive win on the road thanks to another hat-trick from their star striker Karim Benzema.

After watching his side fall to a 3-1 defeat in the Champions League, Chelsea coach Thomas Tuchel reflected on a below-par performance from his side.

"It is a heavy loss. It was one of the worst first halves that I saw from us here at Stamford Bridge. At this kind of level you cannot play like this individually or as a team," Tuchel told to Chelsea official website.

"From all of us, we were by far not good enough; we were not doing what we are used to doing. The first half was so far from any standards that we set ourselves, Tuchel pinpointed a lack of precision in the pass and strength in the tackle as reasons behind the difficult first half, while chances spurned after the break also proved costly.

The return leg is scheduled for next Tuesday, April 12 in Madrid at the Estadio Santiago Bernabeu where Real Madrid will look to book their spot in the semifinals of the UEFA

Champions League. Du Plessis leads by example; performs Barcelona to travel as favourites in Europa League really well, says Glenn Maxwell tie against Frankfurt

MADRID, April 7 (IANS): FC contract with the club and a new deal could now be signed in the challenge for a title this season when they visit Eintracht Frankfurt in the first-leg of their Europa League quarterfinal on Thursday.

Coach Xavi Hernandez is without right back Sergino Dest and forward Memphis Depay though injury, while Luuk de Jong also misses out after testing positive for Covid-19 at the end of last week and Dani Alves isn't included in Barca's squad for Eu-

Meanwhile Sergi Roberto, Samuel Umtiti and Ansu Fati are long-term absentees, who have also remained in Barcelona to continue their recovery process.

The absence of Alaves is a problem for Xavi, who will probably have to play Oscar Mingueza, who doesn't seem to form part of the coach's plans, at right back, while he could make some rotations in central defense, with Eric Garcia in for Ronald deal could now be signed in the coming days after several months of on-off discussions, reports Xinhua.

Talks are also ongoing with winger Ousmane Dembele, who looked to have a foot out of the door after rejecting a new contract in January.

Xavi has maintained faith in the Frenchman despite many wanting the winger to be left in the stands for the rest of the season and the coach has been rewarded with a series of impressive performances.

Barca's 1-0 win at the weekend over Sevilla lifted them to second in LaLiga with Pedri's excellent goal assuring the points and the 18-year-old will again be Barca's focal point in Germany.

Eintracht are currently ninth in the Bundesliga and Barca have to be seen as clear favorites, but the German side showed when they knocked Betis out of the last round that they are a dangerous side on the break and Barca will have to avoid any lapses of concentration in possession.

MUMBAI, April 7 (IANS): Royal Challengers Bangalore (RCB) allrounder Glenn Maxwell on Thursday showered praise on captain Faf du Plessis, saying that the former South Africa captain leads by example with his actions and performs really well.

In Bangalore's campaign till now of two wins and one loss, du Plessis has earned praise from all quarters for his leadership of the franchise and opening the batting with his predecessor Virat Kohli.

"We're really happy with Faf (du Plessis) at the helm. We think he's going to do a great job for the franchise and even the way he started, you can tel' he's got the respect of everyone in the room. Not only does he lead by example with his actions; but he also performs really well. To have a guy of his quality at the top of the order is something that's great for the franchise," said Maxwell in a video of the 'Bold Diaries' series on Thursday. Maxwell also felt that apart from having du Plessis as captain, the team is strong enough to go all the way to the trophy. "And hopefully, the senior guys around can help him out as well. So, it's not just him shouldering all that workload we'd potentially have seen in the previous years at RCB.'

"To have, I suppose, a solid leadership group behind him to sort of feel like it's not just him out there having to shoulder all the load. We believe it's a winning squad.' wicketkeeper-batter

Hopefully, we can help him out at different stages. But we're very fortunate with the squad that we've got. Maxwell had words of praise for Dinesh Karthik, who has been churning out finishing touches for Bangalore, especially with an unbeaten 23-ball 44 against Rajasthan Royals. "I've been watching, and I think Anuj Rawat our own (youngster), he's very exciting. Who I have been really excited by actually, was one of the old fellas, Dinesh Karthik."

"He's been awesome. Just come in great form. Old fella's still doing it. I played with him in 2013 in Mumbai. Nine years later, we find ourselves back in the same change room. So, to see him go really well, and start well for us is awesome for us. We love having that depth in our batting order and he certainly gives it to us." Maxwell is now available to turn out for Bangalore when they face Mumbai Indians on Saturday in Pune. He had missed the first few matches due to his wedding to Indian-origin pharmacist Vini Raman in Melbourne and had to wait for Australia's series against Pakistan to end on April 5 as Cricket Australia rules don't allow their contracted players to play domestic T20 competitions when international matches are on. "I'm glad I look fit. I don't know. I don't exactly feel it. haven't done much over the last few weeks. I was looking forward to getting over here. I know I had a week from when I landed to the first game that I was playing, so, I wanted to do that as preparation time and know that I can get myself up to match ready for that first game. I just can't wait for the night to get back out there with the guys,"

Hockey nat'ls: Rohit scores seven as Haryana thrash Assam 21-1

BHOPAL, April 7 (IANS): Hockey Haryana rode on seven goals by Rohit to thrash Assam Hockey 21-1 in the 12th Hockey India Senior Men National Championship 2022 here on

The tournament witnessed high octane action on Day 2 as the Hockey Unit of Tamil Nadu and Hockey Association of Odisha too registered big wins.

In the first match of the day in Pool G, the Hockey Unit of Tamil Nadu ran out 4-0 winners against Hockey Madhya Pradesh. Sundarapandi (33', 59'), Dinesh Kumar (3') and Saravana Kumar (40') delivered the goals for the Hockey Unit of Tamil Nadu.

It was Hockey Haryana that laid down the marker with a 21-1 victory over Assam Hockey in Rohit (17', 19', 22', 32', 38', 39', 47') led the charge with seven goals to his name, followed by Deepak (5', 55', 59'), Pankaj (12', 55'), Prince (27', 28'), Deepak (34', 46'), Pankaj (44', 52'), Mohit (36', 50') and Pardeep Rana (57'), who all added to the score sheet with their efforts. IPL 2022: Warner, Nortje are match-winners; can win games single-handedly, says Smith

MUMBAI, April 7 (IANS): Former South Africa captain Graeme Smith believes that having 'matchwinners' David Warner and Anrich Nortje in the playing eleven of Delhi Capitals will ensure the duo can win the matches single-hand-

Warner and Nortje missed the first two matches of Delhi due to varying reasons. But they are now available for selection when Delhi face Lucknow Super Giants at the DY Patil Stadium later on Thursday. "If you have got Warner and Nortje fit and ready to go, you simply pick them. It's a no-brainer.

They are match-winners and could win you games single-handedly. It will add impactful players to your line-up and that in T20s is hugely important," Smith was quoted as saying by cricket.com.

If Warner opens alongside Prithvi Shaw against Lucknow, it will be his first match for Delhi in this season, especially after starting his IPL journey with them from 2009 till 2013. Warner then went on to be a success for Sunrisers Hyderabad, leading them to the trophy in 2016 as well as smashing runs at will. But a rough run in last two seasons meant Warner wasn't retained by Hyderabad and in mega auction, Delhi picked him up. Smith, who won the inaugural edition of the IPL with Rajasthan Royals in 2008, feels that Warner coming in will take huge pressure off Shaw and captain Rishabh Pant in the batting order. "We know Warner is not the easiest character but if you can get him in the right frame of mind and keep him motivated, I think he could be a huge asset. We saw that in SRH. He led them from the front and then things kind of wobbled and fell apart.

"(Ricky) Ponting will know him well and how to get the best out of him. He will have a very clear mindset of how to use Warner. We saw him in the World Cup and he still has got a lot of ability. He is destructive and him and Prithvi Shaw up the order could take a lot of pressure off Pant.'

On the other hand, Nortje was retained by the Capitals ahead of countrymate Kagiso Rabada due to stellar job in 2020 and 2021 seasons. But the explosive pacer hasn't played any cricket since the Men's T20 World Cup in October-November last year due to injuries. But with Nortje available for selection now, Smith feels his presence will make Delhi's bowling line-up stronger. "Anrich Nortje for me is still a little bit of a lottery. He is coming off a big injury and hasn't played any cricket since the T20 World Cup. They might take a longer-term view on him and they would want someone like him to have some gametime and get better and better. He is looking fit, he is looking healthy and could be the man for them that could make a big impact. He bowls quick and can get you those big wickets. Delhi would want him into

The Indian made a good start and only once did Ohori take a slender one-point lead at 8-7 but it was erased in no time as she comfortably closed out the opening game.

The Japanese did try to make a comeback in the second with a 8-4 lead but it was dealt with authority with Sindhu grabbing 17 of the next 19 points to bang the door on her opponent.

Earlier, sixth seed Sen, who has been in sensational form in the last six months with back-toback final finishes at German Open and All England Championships, was pipped by Rhustavito in the closely-fought first game. The 20-year-old Indian then lost steam and struggled in the second to concede the tie

Punjab Kings vs Gujarat Titans: Ferguson vs Livingstone could be one of IPL's hottest battles

MUMBAI, April 7 (PTI): Gujarat Titans' lethal pace attack is all set to ask some probing questions to the dynamic Punjab Kings top-order when the two teams lock horns in an IPL match on Friday. In terms of composition and balance, both Gujarat and Punjab are very different and that makes for an enticing contest on a Brabourne Stadium track where runs are always on offer.

Punjab in their three games have shown that the approach this year would be to go hammer and tongs during the Powerplay overs and set the tempo for the rest of the innings.

In IPL however, there are some intriguing sub-plots that make it an engaging Friday. It will be a battle between Punjab's costliest buy (apart from skipper Mayank Agarwal's retention) Liam Livingstone and New Zealand's speed merchant Lockie Fer-

Having literally terrorised Delhi Capitals' Mandeep Singh with his pace and steep bounce in the earlier game, expect Ferguson to unleash his thunderbolts on Livingstone, who had taken the CSK attack to cleaners in the previous game with his 32-ball-60.

Ferguson and Mohammed Shami make for the most potent new ball pair after the first two weeks. With head coach Anil Kumble they would like to devise a strategy to keep Punjab Kings under check during the Powerplay overs. Hardik Pandya again bowling full tilt and touching 140 clicks also adds to the potency of the Gujarat attack but their batting still looks a bit questionable save Shubman Gill and skipper Pandya.

While senior openers Shikhar Dhawan and skipper Agarwal are yet to make significant contributions, it would be an onerous job against the Titans attack.

It is the middle-order of Bhanuka Rajapaksa, Livingstone and newcomer Jitesh Sharma, that is expected to provide fireworks with M Shahrukh Khan and Odean Smith at the rear.

They would like to target the weak

Indian bowlers like Rahul Tewatia and Varun Aaron, who is known for leaking runs in all these years of IPL. However where Gujarat might face problems is in the batting front. Shubhman Gill is the only assured batter they have till now.

In the first match against Lucknow, they didn't have to chase much and the second game saw them defend 170 odd purely because of their opening bowling depth. Vijay Shankar as a top-order batter has looked far from convincing and Matthew Wade hasn't yet hit the rhythm although he is capable of big hits.

Abhinav Manohar is very new at Miller aren't exactly known for their
